

Head for the hills!!!

And take Old Bessy with you.

The government thinks she's theirs and they're gonna make you register her
and all those chickens in the yard, or else.

They say it's to protect us.

Funny, the mob 'protects' people, too.

The government's National Animal Identification System (NAIS) is 'voluntary' now but scheduled to be mandatory by January 2008. According to it you will have to register every cow, horse, llama, goat, sheep, chicken, turkey, etc. that you own or face "enforcement" from the Federal Government.

Did we mention you're going to have to pay for it, too?

For more information go to Stop Animal ID at www.StopAnimalid.org